KEY PIECE

Evoking Mediterranean breezes, Trudon's new "Isla" perfume ($350) has notes of bergamot and rosemary.

horse", she once quipped), she was harnessing the swirling forces of power around her and wielding influence behind the scenes. In her restoration of the White House, she sought to create the artistic and cultural stage on which her husband's leadership and vision – grounded in the founding values and democratic ideals of America – could emerge, evolve and rise.

 Squeamish of the foreign dish
 But curiosity lures her in.

Reluctant and hesitant
 She reaches out to touch them
 Peels them with her bare fingers
 And shoves one down her throat.

It gets caught and she chokes
 Coughing, shouting and yelling
 Spitting it out she curses
 The others are dumbfounded.

RIGHTS

When they say, "we can't fix the divides,

It's stitched into us to be afraid of the other"

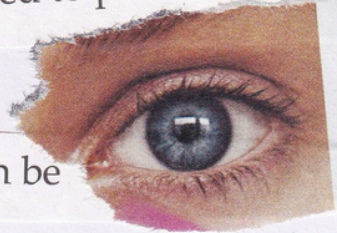

Given facts that we will always be afraid of difference

THE BIG ISSUE

It's our nature, things raised to protect us.

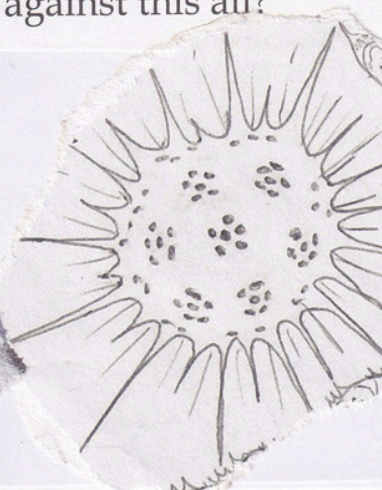

That we can be

Hateful, quick to judge, even more so to fear

How are we to row forwards and against this all?
